RINDERPEST. - For some time past it ha been reported that cattle, affected with the rinderpest, have been slaughtered near here and the meat thereof sold in this city .-The following communication sent to the Mayor this morning gives credence to the report :

ALEXANDRIA, November 29, 1867,

Hugh Latham, esq., Mayor : Six-It has been reported to us that cattle in this vicinity are dying of the disease called the "rinderpest," and that meat of some of the animals which died of this disease has been offered for sale in our market, or at least in Alexandria. We deem that some sanitary measures should be taken by the City Council to prevent the spread of this epidemic, and the further buying and selling of the diseased ment?

We suggest that inspectors be appointed to examine all cattle brought into this county for sale, slaughtering or otherwise, or any active measures which may be thought advisable to stay the progress of the disease and the suffering and loss which has attended its prevalence in other communities

Monday, for its action, as the abattoirs are all any, is on the other side of the river. It does located outside of the corporation limits; and look like "spite" there, in the matter of the as the Legislature is not in session, it is supposed that application will be made to General Schofield for authority to appoint a Cattle Inspector. In the mean time it would be well to buy meat from none but reliable butchers.

ACCIDENT. - As a party of ladies and gentlemen from this city were on their way to Washington, last night, in an omnibus, when within a short distance from the Long Bridge, and as the night train was on its way down, at the same point, the omnibus was accidentally upset, and thrown within a few inches of the rail road track, the passing train striking and smashing it to pieces, but fortunately striking mone of the passengers. Several of the ladies were severely injured, and the escape was almost miraculous. The train was immediately stopped, and the party brought back to the city, the attention of the conductor, engineer, and passengers on the train being very polite and kind. Steps should be taken by the Turnpike Company to prevent the occurrence of accidents on the road, especially at the points where the railroad track and turnpike approach so closely as to scarcely give room for the passage of the the train and a vehicle. The track should be fenced in, or the turnpike so widened as to ensure security under ordinary circumstances, as at present the danger is always imminent, when the trains are passing.

CROUP. - As several cases of croup have lately occurred in this city, and as that season of of the year has now commenced in which this infantile disease is most prevalent, the following extract from the Medical Gazette of Paris is published for the benefit of those mothers who usually treat croup without the aid of a FAIR. - The fair over Adam - Express Office, under the auspices of the M. E. Church, South, was attended on last night and the night previous by a large throng, all seemingly enjoying themselves exceedingly. I The temptations oftered to the youngmen at such places are so great that it is no wonder they part with their money, for who can resist when beset on every side by the sweetest and most engaging of young ladies, each earnestly pleading, "just buy thisonly this, won't you?" The ice cream and supper saloons, were attacked so vigorously, that though large supplies had been laid in, they gave out long before the calls ceased; while the room devoted to tableaux was packed to its utmest capacity throughout the performance, which was greatly admired. Among the articles displayed on the fancy tables, were some neat pieces of needle-work, made and presented to the fair by an inmate of the city Alms' House. These attracted much attention. The most sanguine expectations of the managers, who have displayed much ability and tact in their arrangements, are fully realized so far, and doubtless the Fair will continue to be as freely patronized during the season as it has CHICKEN THEFTS. - In the suburbs of this city, and in the adjoining country, complaints are daily made of the nightly robberies of hen roosts. Indeed, to such an unprecedented extent has this spicies of villainy been of late carried on in this neighborhood that strenous exertions should be at once instituted to capture some of the thieves, and by the infliction upon them of the full penalty of the law make their cases no orious examples.

POLICE REPORT-MAYOR'S OFFICE.-M Markham, for threatening the life of John Heisler, was discharged upon the payment of costs. It was proved in the examination of this case that Michael Markham and Andrew Englehardt had slaughtered a cow supposed to be afflicted with the rinderpest, and that Markham, knowing that Heisler Lad seen what was done, threatened to kill him if he told. The Mayor appointed a committee of butchers to inspect the meat of the slaughtered cow. MAGISTRATES' OFFICE. - A warrant was is sued for the arrest of Harriet Nalls, Sallie Blue, and Sophia Kenly, residents of what is known as Vinegar Hill, for committing a breach of the peace, in destroying the wood house of a colored man named Robert Darnell, who lives in that vicinity.

While a medical student at Philadelphia, a pupil of the celebrated Dr. Rush, he witnessed the second inauguration of Washington. He began the practice of medicine in the Green Mountain neighborhood in Albemarle, and after a few years there moved to Culpeper Court House, where he resided many years as a physician, and then retired to hi farm in Culpeper. About the year 1810 he moved to Alexandria, and resided there until the close of the late war, when he came to Culpeper, and found a home at the house of Mr. Slaughter, where he was made comfortable un-til his death. He preserved his faculties won-derfully to the last. He had been for many years a member of the Episcopal Church,-

Culpeper Observer. [Most of our townsmen will read the above announcement with great regret for the death of the venerable Dr. Winston. He was an old school Virginia gentleman, intelligent, honorable and courteous. His reminisences were most interesting, and extended back to the days of Washington, whom he had seen, and Jefferson and Madison, and other of the distinguished men of our State in the early days of who knew him.]

This mo ning, at his residence, in this city, Captain EBENEZER BACON, in the 71st yr. of his age. The funeral will take place on south Water street, which the friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

On Saturday morning last, in Leesburg, Mr. JAMES D. HANVEY, aged about 47 yrs. His remains were interred in the Union Cemetery, on Sunday afternoon, attended by the Sons of Temperanc, of which organization he was a member, and a large concourse of citizens. TOMMISSIONERS' SALE OF POTO AC LAND IN WESTMORELAND COUS TY, VA.—By virtue of a decree of the Corcuit Court of Westmoreland county, Va., pronounced at the October term thereof, in 1857, in the suit, in said Court, of King vs. Watson and others, the subscribers, therein appointed Special Commissioners for the purpose, will offer or sale, to the highest bidder, at public auction, at Lamkin's store, on SATURDAY, the 7th day of December, 1867, the TRACE OF LAND, in the decree and proceedings mentioned, called and known as "KINGSALE" - (sometimes called "Kinsale,") owned in his lifetime by Warren D. Watson This tract of land contains 493 acres. It is situated immediately on the Potomac river, by which it is bounded for some distance, and lies intermediate between Rozier's and Monroe's Creeks, being separated from each on the upper and lower sides by a farm on either side. It was formerly a stated steamboat landing, and as the water is bold the shore can be approached very near by vessels of the largest class. As may be supposed, it possesses all the advantages of the water and its products.

There is a comfortable two-story frame DWELLING HOUSE, with two large rooms and a passage below, with closets, and two rooms above, and kitchen-barns and sta ble in substantial repair. The quality of the land is of medium fertility, with fences, and wood and timber sufficient to supply the wants of the farm. The residence is believed to be as healthy as any situation on the river.

The subscribers deem it unnecessary to give a more minute description, as they presume that any person desirous of purchasing will visit the premises and judge for himself. They will, however, answer any special enquiries in regard to the land that may be addressed to them, or either of them.

TERMS-The land will be sold for as much cash as is necessary to pay the costs of the suit, and expenses of sale, and the residue on a cred it of one, two and three years, taking from the purchaser bonds, with approved personal security, for the deferred payments, and retaining the title until further order of Court.
